YOUR SUPPORT MATTERS

The Mobile Cancer Screening Program is dedicated to providing essential cancer screenings for under- and uninsured patients in West Virginia. Through the generous support of donations and grant funding, The Program ensures that all eligible patients have financial access to these critical services. Funding comes from many sources including: The Pink Party, community fundraising, corporate support, foundation support, and individual donations.

Other ways to support The Mobile Cancer Screening Program:

- Talk to your provider about screening and encourage others to get screened
- Share information about screening events
- Host a wellness event when the Mobile Program is in your community
- Join the West Virginia Cancer Coalition, Mountains of Hope, to help broaden cancer efforts in the state
- Make a donation to support cancer screening in West Virginia

ANNOUNCING BONNIE'S BUS 2

The WVU Cancer Institute Mobile Cancer Screening Program is proud to introduce Bonnie's Bus 2 with funding from Aetna Better Health of West Virginia. Bonnie's Bus 2 will build upon the success of Bonnie's Bus, providing more accessible breast cancer screening across the state focusing on rural areas with limited or no access to screening mammography. Work to procure the new state-of-the-art unit is underway with travel anticipated to begin in 2026.
